NEW BABY CARRIER- BELLE

There is a new carrier out: The Belle Baby Carrier. Designed by two fathers who engineer rock climbing safety equipment, it has a nice, feather-weight feel and cool, breathable fabrics. When you see the Belle, you just know this is from the west coast where hiking and lightweight gear with strong fabrics are important. However, city dwellers should take note: the breathable fabrics and pared-down design are great qualities for a city baby carrier too. The Belle works on the premise that the weight gets distributed to your hips, not your shoulders. And that is the way it does work. You can nurse easily in it too.
