Wear your baby in a Stylish way!

The Belle Baby Carrier was meticulously designed by two fathers who engineer rock climbing safety equipment. These outdoor enthusiasts pay close attention to detail as well as product safety and functionality. So rest easy when you carry your baby in the Belle Baby Carriers. They are in good hands!

These carriers are perfect for those who spend a lot of time outdoors, hiking or walking. If you're a stay at home mom, don't let that deter you! These carriers are ultra stylish which makes them great for everyday use. I moved recently and I put my daughter in one of these carriers while I was packing and lifting boxes. I felt good knowing she was safely nestled against me.

Belle Baby Carriers come in lots of stylish prints and colors that are gender neutral, so both mom and dad can feel good wearing them. Plus the ventilated design is great for summer. Thinking about Fall coming soon? They've got you covered. The cheetah print one is furry and warm. (That's the one we have!) Plus they just released two new prints just in time for Fall - Cherry Deco and Denim.

These carriers are ideal for babies 10-25 lbs and are super convenient because baby can face toward or away from you. For me, it was super comfortable to wear and simple to use. Some baby carriers, you have to pull out the directions and spend 20 minutes figuring out how to put it on, but not this one. It's completely user friendly!

The other thing I really liked about it was being able to adjust it to the perfect height so I could discreetly nurse my daughter in stores. Being kind of a holistic mom, I am concerned about my daughter's spine. I even bring her to the chiropractors with me. So I was really happy to see that this carrier actually fosters proper growth and development. Some carriers compact baby's spine and it ends up being a problem for them later on.

Another cool thing is these carriers are actually made in Colorado of the highest quality fabrics and materials. I LOVE things that aren't made in China! Nothing against China, it's just it seems like everything is made over there...

I just have so many good things to say about this carrier, I could really go on forever. But enough of my opinion, it's time you try one out for yourself and see how great they are!

Starting at just $89.95, you can pick between 11 different colors and prints.
