Eco-Hip Baby Carriers for New Dads

More and more father figures, from celebrities to your neighborhood superstar dads, have been spotted carrying their kids just about everywhere, as they head into coffee shops and head out for a morning walk in the park.

Hip, eco-friendly slings allow new dads the opportunity to catch up on baby bonding time as they multitask, spare their muscles from strain, and support the planet...

The Belle Baby Carrier (pronounced "Belle-ay") was designed by two outdoor-loving dads with experience in the design and engineering of climbing gear. It is a front-carrier equipped with an adjustable Five-Point Support System that naturally shifts most baby weight from the back onto the waistline.

Their organic collection boasts packs made from 100% organic cotton, hemp fabrics, and eco-friendly dyes that come wrapped in recyclable packaging.
