Belle Baby Carriers Add Comfort & Style for both Mom & Dad

The Belle is a chic front-supported carrier created for today's modern, active parent & their precious baby.

Designed by two fathers who engineer rock climbing safety equipment; the Belle is perfect for those wanting to wear their baby on a hike, and then stroll around town without having to sacrifice style, modern convenience and comfort for function.

Sewn in Colorado, the Belle supports the baby in a natural, ergonomic position; and the sleek design makes it easy to use, and minimal to stash away. Their load distribution system displaces the baby's weight from the parent's shoulders, down to their hips, ensuring extended-wear comfort. The mother and baby are in constant contact so she is able to discretely nurse, and the baby can face towards or away.
